

BECCAR VARELA PROMOTES TWO TO THE PARTNERSHIP

Posted on 6 June 2017

Category: News

Estudio Beccar Varela in Buenos Aires announced the promotion of Juan Antonio Stupenengo and Guido H. Krolovetzky to the partnership.

Juan Antonio Stupenengo graduated with honours from Universidad de Buenos Aires (2001), and holds further qualifications in Public Law (2007). He is a professor in public and regulatory law in the Universidad de Buenos Aires and Universidad Católica Argentina. Stupenengo joined Beccar Varela in 2004 and has focused on public, regulatory and constitutional law.

Guido H. Krolovetzky graduated in law from Universidad Torcuato Di Tella (2001) in Buenos Aires and holds postgraduate qualifications in Customs Law. He began his career in an in-house role at Maruba, the shipping company. After two years, he joined Estudio O'Farrell, the Argentinean law firm, in 2002. Krolovetzky joined Beccar Varela in 2008 and became head of its customs law practice group. He also covers international trade and WTO-related matters.