BRZ Advogados announced the addition of Bruno Corrêa Burini (pictured) to partnership, in addition to inaugurating a new office in Brasília.

With over 25 years of experience, Bruno is widely recongnized for his extensive expertise in litigation and arbitration in the areas of public and private law, as well as in contracts, public services, bids and concessions, sanctioning processes, financial controls, antitrust, life sciences and healthcare, and technology and energy.

He holds master's and doctorate degree in Procedural Law from the Universidade de São Paulo (USP) and also serves as a professor at Universidade de Brasília (UnB).

Prior to joining BRZ Advogados, he also acted as managing partner at Trench Rossi Watanabe's Brasília office.

His career includes stints at other prominent law firms such as Dinamarco, Yarshell e Madrona, as well as positions as legal advisor to the President of the Administrative Council for Economic Defense (CADE) and the Superior Court of Justice (STJ).
