Chile's largest law firm Carey announced the promotion of Francisca Corti, Cristián Figueroa and Ignacio Gillmore to the partnership.

Corti graduated in law from Universidad Católica (2009) in Chile and holds a Master's degree in Human Resources Management and Organisational Analysis from King's College London (2013) and another Master's in Labor Law from Universidad Adolfo Ibáñez (2012) in Chile. Corti focuses her practice on employment and labour matters.

Figueroa's practice focuses on transactional matters including corporate, M&A and capital market. He graduated from Universidad Católica de Chile (2007) and holds an MSc in Law and Finance from University of Oxford (2011).

Gillmore specializes in regulatory, pharmaceutical law and life sciences. He regularly advises companies in intellectual and industrial property issues related to the pharmaceutical industry and its regulation, the cosmetics industry and medical devices, scientific investigation and clinical trials, among others. Gillmore graduated from Universidad de Chile (2006) and is also a professor of the Pharmaceutical Regulatory Affairs in Pharmaceutical, Biological and Cosmetic Products Graduate Program from the same university, since 2009.

With the latest round of promotions, Carey is now home to 30 partners of a total headcount of 230 lawyers.
