Carneiros e Dipp Advogados, based in Brasília, and Cruz Vilaça Advogados, based in Lisbon, Portugal, have entered into a collaboration agreement aimed at offering clients high-quality legal services in Brazil and the European Union.

The collaboration will be broad and comprehensive, focusing on legal assistance to clients in several areas of law, including corporate, regulatory and competition, and European Union law. The partnership also involves the academic area, through the deepening of relevant legal issues, so as to benefit the relations between the two jurisdictions from a political and institutional point of view.

"We are very happy with this partnership, which will allow us to offer even broader and more comprehensive services to our clients interested in an international practice. The two firms share the same ethical and professional values, which will undoubtedly enable us to move forward together in pursuit of mutual interests," says Rafael Carneiro (pictured left), founding partner of Carneiros e Dipp Advogados.

For José Luís Cruz Vilaça (pictured right), founding partner of Cruz Vilaça Advogados, the success of this partnership involves defining a method: "The exchange between our professionals and the articulation between clients, as well as between entities of interest for issues relevant to both countries, always keeping in mind principles of loyal cooperation, mutual interest and ethics that govern us."
