Prieto announced it hired Aldo Cardinali to head its environmental law practice group.

Aldo Cardinali holds a law degree from the Universidad de los Andes in Chile, a Master's degree in environmental law at the University of Melbourne, Australia, and a Diploma in environment and sustainable development at the Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile (2013).

Currently, he is also professor of Environmental Law at his alma mater, the Universidad de los Andes.

Prior to joining Prieto as a senior associate, Cardinali was an associate at Morales & Besa.
