

HAYNES AND BOONE MEXICO OFFICE RECRUITS JONES DAY ENERGY AND INFRASTRUCTURE LAWYER

Posted on 18 December 2015

Category: News

Haynes and Boone's Mexico City office has recruited counsel Tom Heather from Jones Day.

Heather, who was an associate at his previous firm, focuses on energy and infrastructure projects, including project finance, public tenders and regulatory matters. He also has broad experience in corporate and financial law.

Partner Alberto de la Peña, who heads the US-Mexico cross-border practice at Haynes and Boone, said: "The addition of Tom significantly strengthens our corporate finance, infrastructure and energy capabilities."

"We are very excited about Tom joining our team in Mexico, particularly with the opportunities on both sides of the border arising out of the important reforms being made in the Mexico energy sector."