

HOGAN LOVELLS ADVISED ISA ON $80 MILLION INVESTMENT IN TELECOMS INFRASTRUCTURE

Posted on 15 March 2017

Category: News

Infrastructure development provider ISA instructed Hogan Lovells on an agreement to invest up to $80 million in Andean Tower Partners.

Andean Tower Partners is a private owner of wireless communication towers and equipment in Colombia and Peru. The company is a subsidiary of Digital Bridge.

As part of the deal, ISA will hold up to a 48% stake in ATP and will partner with Digital Bridge to develop the business and focus on the deployment of new telecommunications network infrastructure in Colombia and Peru.

Partners Dave Locascio, Jose Luis Vittor, and Bruno Ciuffetelli led Hogan Lovells which acted for ISA. The company instructed Brigard & Urrutia as Colombia counsel.

Digital Bridge instructed Kleinbard in the US while ATP retained Muñoz Tamayo & Asociados in Colombia.